Mystery blast shakes Coast

By RICH ADAMS
Officials at the National Space Technology Laboratories in Hancock County and Keesler Air Force Base in Biloxi do not know the source of a 'mystery explosion' which rocked homes and rattled windows in areas of Hancock County and other cities along the Gulf Coast Thursday morning.

The mystery tremor was felt by some residents at approximately 9:30 a.m. Many residents believed the movement, which in some places was accompanied by a 'faint' blast, originated at NSTL where U.S. Army units frequently test explosives.

NSTL chief counsel and acting director Ed Ling of Waveland said Friday Army crews tested a gunpowder charge at 11:50 a.m. Thursday, but said the charge was not large enough to cause such reverberations.

"We received one call from a lady who asked what caused the explosion, but she could not specify the time she heard the blast," Ling said Friday afternoon.

"Our blast was only a very low-level concentration. Our equipment, which registers as low as 10 percent, did not even register this blast," Ling continued.

"The blast occurred at exactly 11:50 in the morning," he emphasized.

Lt. Roque, a Public Affairs Office spokesman at Keesler Air Force Base in Biloxi, said the vibrations could have been caused by a sonic boom from low-flying planes, but added no jets fly out of the Biloxi facility.

"There are Naval Air Stations in Pensacola, Fla., Meridian, and New Orleans, La. which sometimes fly practice missions over this area," Roque said Friday.

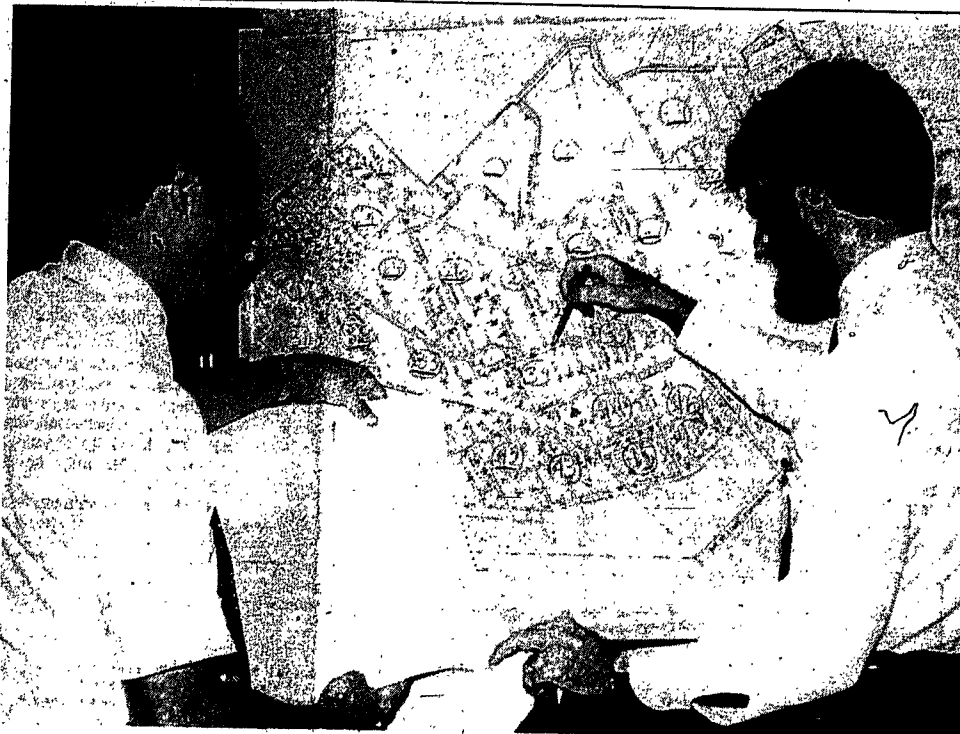

"Those facilities have sub-sonic, high-speed A-37 fighter jets for practice," he continued.

"The Air National Guard will sometimes have a visiting unit fly F-4 fighter jets out of the regional airport, but I do not know if one is there now," Roque added.

"We have had several reports that an explosion was felt by residents," another Keesler spokesman said.

A spokesman at Pensacola said later Friday no training craft were operating west of Biloxi Thursday, but noted that the Louisiana Air National Guard's 159th Tactical Fighting Unit was flying a mission over the Mississippi Gulf Coast between 9-9:30 a.m.

Lt. Col. John Boh, deputy commander of operations for the New Orleans unit,

BaySide man dies in oil rig mishap

By RICH ADAMS
and ELLIS CUEVAS
The body of a BaySide Park man who fell from an oil rig flotation barge which overturned Friday night near New Orleans, La. was recovered Saturday morning, according to the Hancock County Sheriff's Department.

Sheriff Ronald A. Peterson said the body of Bobby Frank Farrow Sr., 45, a resident of West Desoto Street, BaySide Park, was recovered at Saturday morning.

The sheriff said Farrow was a galley helper on an oil rig being constructed by Circle Bar Drilling.

According to reports, the oil crew was sinking the rig when it overturned, spilling Farrow into deep water.

Farrow had been at the oil rig since Wednesday, Peterson added.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Juanita Farrow; one son, Bobby Frank Farrow Jr., both of Bay St. Louis; and two daughters, Miss Lodie Janelle Farrow of Mobile, Ala., and Mrs. Linda Lofton of New Orleans, La.

A complete obituary appears on Page 2A of today's Sea Coast Echo.

Dickie Jo Ladner refutes rumors

By RICH ADAMS
Hancock County farmer Dickie Jo Ladner, owner of Ladner Farms on Hwy. 53, said Friday he is 'embarrassed' by widespread rumors connecting him to a reported marijuana transport arrest in Poplarville last month.

Rumors have been widely circulated during the past two weeks in Hancock and Pearl River Counties to the effect a plane or helicopter owned by Ladner and allegedly loaded with marijuana was apprehended at the Pearl River-Poplarville Airport.

U.S. Customs Department and Mississippi Narcotics Bureau officials

Wednesday said they have no record of any such marijuana seizure, although they said rumors to that effect have reached their offices.

A spokesman for the Federal Drug Enforcement Agency in Mobile, Ala. also said Wednesday his office has no record or knowledge of any arrests in connection with a plane load of marijuana.

"This is embarrassing. The magnitude of these rumors can be detrimental to my business," Ladner said Friday at his farm in the Necaise Community.

"This is the most widespread rumor I have ever heard circulate without an ounce of truth," he continued.

"I have to employ one girl to answer the phone and dismiss the rumor all day long. The number of telephone calls I have received on this is staggering," Ladner said.

"I am involved in agricultural crop dusting. We use the airport at Poplarville. We have been flying a lot of dusting flights because crops are heavily infested with worms this time of year," he continued.

"We have two cropdusters which hold only one person, the pilot. The Boy Scout sex charge dismissed

By RICH ADAMS
A sex charge against a New Orleans Area Council Boy Scout director was dismissed due to lack of evidence by District Three Justice Court Judge Lloyd Anderson during a preliminary hearing Thursday night.

Anderson said there was 'insufficient evidence' against Dennis Mischler, 28, a director at the Salmen Boy Scout Reservation near the Sellers, Community in Hancock County.

"Things just did not add up. No private parts were ever exposed," Anderson said Friday afternoon.

"I wanted to reduce the charges to child fondling, but that law only applies to children under 14 years of age," the judge added.

Mischler was arrested July 9 by Hancock County Sheriff Ronald A. Peterson after the father of a 14-year-old child boy who was attending a two-week camp filed a complaint.

The complaint alleges the incident occurred between midnight and 1 a.m. July 8, according to the sheriff's office.

Anderson said Friday that the county is looking into other charges which may be brought against Mischler.

If law enforcement officials and the father of the boy who made the accusation chose to pursue the case, it could be taken to District Attorney Albert Necaise for possible presentation to the Grand Jury.

"I found no probable cause for the charge of attempting to commit an unnatural sex act, but the fondling charge could possibly apply," Anderson said Friday.

"Things just did not add up," he added.

Federal agency outlines flood insurance program

(Editor's Note: The Federal Emergency Management Agency has drafted the following series of questions and answers in an effort to acquaint the general public with the National Flood Insurance Program and recent changes in the program. The Sea Coast Echo will carry this series in three parts, beginning with today's edition.)

The following information on the National Flood Insurance Program is designed by FEMA for readers who do not need a detailed history of the program or refined technical or legal explanations, but only a basic knowledge of flood insurance and the answers to some frequently-asked questions.

For program information, such as community eligibility, call toll-free 1-800-424-8872.

Call local insurance agents or toll-free 1-800-638-6620 for insurance questions. Policyholders should report losses to their agents, and agents should call toll-free 1-800-638-6620 for reporting claims for flood losses.

For general information, write Federal Insurance Administration, 1725 Eye St., NW, Washington, D.C., 20472.

For insurance questions, submitting policy applications, notice of loss, etc., write National Flood Insurance Program, POB 34294, Bethesda, Md., 20834.

BACKGROUND

1. Q. It is the National Flood Insurance Program?

A. It is a Federal program enabling property owners to buy flood insurance at a reasonable cost. In return, communities carry out local flood plain management measures to protect lives and new construction from future flooding.

2. Q. How was the Program created and who administers it?

A. Congress established the Program with the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968. Broadened and modified since then, the Program is administered by the Federal Insurance Administration within the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

3. Q. Why did Congress create the flood insurance program?

A. For decades, the national response to flood disasters was generally limited to building flood control works (dams, levees, seawalls, etc.) and providing disaster relief to flood victims. To compound the problem, the public could not buy flood coverage from insurance companies and building techniques to reduce flood damage to new construction were often overlooked. In the face of mounting flood losses, Congress created the National Flood Insurance Program in order to reduce annual flood losses through more careful planning and to provide property owners with affordable flood protection.

4. Q. Why is the Program important for property owners? For taxpayers?

A. For a reasonable cost, people owning or buying property in the flood plains can now insure against flood losses. With more careful local management of the flood plains, the new construction permitted there by local governments will better withstand flooding. As a result, taxpayers will be called upon fewer times to provide costly relief for flood disasters. It is estimated that by the year 2000 the flood insurance program will save the American taxpayer and flood victims $1.7 billion a year.

STRUCTURE

5. Q. How is the program structured?

A. A community qualifies for the Program in two separate phases—the Emergency and Regular Programs. Under the initial Emergency phase, limited amounts of flood insurance

4-H YOUTH AGENT—Richard (Ricky) Smith, 28, native of Poplarville and graduate of Pearl River Junior College and Mississippi State University, is the new Extension 4-H Agent in Hancock County. He holds a bachelor of science degree in agricultural extension and education from MSU where he graduated in 1978. After graduation he taught vocational agriculture at Stone High School in Wiggins, and vocational agriculture at Pearl River Central High School in Carriere. Smith will maintain his office in the County Agent Offices at 405 Necaise Avenue in Bay St. Louis. He can be reached at 467-5458. Smith replaces Bill Goodwin who transferred to Scott County some 15 months ago. Hancock County has not had a 4-H Youth agent during that period. (Staff photo by Edgar Perez)

MEC to sponsor Fall reappraisal meetings

The Mississippi Economic Council is sponsoring a series of educational meetings on the state's newly enacted property tax bill.

The meetings, according to MEC Chairman Lewis F. Mallory Jr., a Starkville banker, are scheduled for the first week in September in five areas of the state and are open to the public at no charge.

"MEC wants, in these meetings, to provide forum of discussion on what the new property tax bills means and how it will be interpreted and implemented by the State Tax Commission," said Mallory, who will chair all five meetings.

Lieutenant Governor Brad Dye will participate in the sessions, and the program includes an analysis of the bill by members of the Senate Finance

School board tables oil product bids

By RICH ADAMS
The Hancock County School Board took two bids for motor oil under advisement Saturday morning after Board President Woodrow Ladner suggested the higher bid be accepted.

Bids were received from Monroe Petroleum, a Shell Motor Oil distributor from Biloxi; and Chevron Petroleum of Atlanta, Ga.

Chevron bid $3.12 per gallon and $3.69 per gallon on two different qualities of motor oil.

Monroe bid $16.72 and $23.94 per case of 24 quarts of different qualities of motor oil.

"There is a few cents difference in the bids. Shell oil is higher, but all the buses are using Shell Oil now and I am tempted to go with the higher bids," Ladner told the board.

"I understand the Chevron Oil will be hard on the engines if we make the change now," he added.

Board Member Louis Ladner moved to accept the bid from Monroe Petroleum, but Board Member Johnny Banks said he would not second the motion.

Board Members Manuel Cuevas and Oris Ladner were absent from Saturday's meeting.

Louis Ladner pointed out that neither bid is firm, noting that the oil companies state the prices are subject to escalation.

Woodrow Ladner suggested the board check with its attorney to see if it may accept the higher bid.

Louis Ladner then rescinded his earlier motion to accept the bid from Monroe and moved to take the issue under advisement.

Other bids opened Saturday included a bid from Chapman Printing of Bay St. Louis for printing of envelopes, stationery, report cards, and certificates.

On a motion by Banks, seconded by Louis Ladner, the bid was accepted.

Two bids for five electric typewriters were opened, one from Walker Brothers become available to local property owners. A community's efforts to reduce flood losses are general, in many cases guided by preliminary flood data.

The map FEMA provides the community at this stage is called the community. Subsidized rates are charged for all structures regardless of their flood risk.

Under the Regular Program, the full limits of flood insurance coverage become available locally.

The premiums charged for new construction vary according to its exposure to flood damage. A structure's exposure is based upon the elevation at its lowest floor above or below the "Base Flood Elevation" (See No. 27).

The community's flood plain management efforts become more comprehensive. New buildings are elevated or floodproofed above certain flood levels. These levels are derived from FEMA's detailed on-site engineering survey in the community. This more detailed map is called a Flood Insurance Rate Map and it shows flood elevations and outlines risk zones useful for insurance purposes.

6. Q. How does a community qualify for the National Flood Insurance Program?

A. A community may apply for the Emergency Program by adopting preliminary flood plain management measures (See No. 48). After FEMA completes a detailed on-site survey that establishes flood levels, the community qualifies for the Regular Program by adopting more comprehensive flood plain construction measures (See No. 49).

To determine whether a community is eligible for the Emergency or Regular Program, call FIA toll-free at 800-424-8872.

7. Q. What help is available to a community that wants to join or continue its participation in the Program?

A. A community may contact the appropriate Federal Insurance Administration (FIA) Regional Office or FIA in Washington, D.C. for program information, application forms, sample flood plain ordinances, etc. A list of Regional Office addresses can be found at the end of this pamphlet.

8. Q. What is a State Coordinating Agency?

A. Each Governor has designated an agency of State Government to coordinate that state's flood insurance program activities. These agencies assist communities in adopting the Program's required flood plain management measures.

9. Q. How can people find out if they are eligible for flood insurance?

A. By checking with their community officials, local insurance agents or FIA. The FIA toll-free number is 800-424-8872. FIA's Insurance Servicing Contractor, (ISC) may also be contacted toll-free at 800-633-6620.

BENEFITS

10. Q. What insurance benefits are available under the Program?

A. The accompanying chart sets forth the Program's available limits of coverage as well as appropriate premium rates under the Program.

11. Q. Who may purchase a flood insurance policy?

A. Any owner of property (a building or its contents) located in a community approved for the sale of flood insurance. Under the program, tenants in eligible communities may also insure their personal property against flood loss.

12. Q. How does one buy flood insurance?

A. After a community qualifies for the sale of flood insurance a policy may be bought from any property insurance agent or broker licensed to do business in the State where the property is located.

INSURANCE

13. Q. Is there a minimum premium for flood insurance policies?

A. Yes, $25.

14. Q. How much flood insurance can be bought for the minimum premium?

A. Under the Emergency Program, the minimum premium could provide up to $10,000 of coverage for a home or up to $7,142.86 of contents coverage, or some combination of the two. In low risk areas identified under the Regular Program, the minimum premium provides substantially more coverage.

15. Q. Does the flood insurance program apply a deductible to losses and, if so, how much is it?

A. Yes, $200. This deductible is applied separately to a building and also to its contents although both may be damaged in the same flood.

16. Q. Does insurance under the program provide coverage at replacement cost?

A. Yes, but only for single-family dwellings and only for those which are insured for 80 percent of the structure's replacement value at the time of loss or are insured to the maximum amount of insurance required ($35,000 in an Emergency Program community or $70,000 in a Regular Program community).

In all other cases, adjustments will be based on the actual cash value of the home at the time of loss. In no case will the adjustment of a loss exceed the limits of coverage purchased. (See answer to question No. 10 for limitations on amounts available for purchase.)

17. Q. What types of property can be insured against flood loss?

A. Building and their contents only. Almost every type of walled and roofed building that is principally above ground can be insured. This would include a mobile home on a foundation. Also eligible are the contents of a fully enclosed building.

18. Q. What kinds of property are not insurable under the program?

A. Gas, and liquid storage tanks, wharves, piers, bulkheads, growing crops, shrubbery, land, livestock, roads, motor vehicles, etc.

19. Q. What types of losses are covered?

A. All direct losses by "flood" are covered. "Flood" is defined in the policy as a general and temporary condition of partial or complete inundation of normally dry land areas, from overflow of inland or tidal waters, or from the unusual and rapid accumulation or runoff of surface waters from any source, or from mud flows.

Also covered are losses resulting from land collapse (erosion) caused by water activity exceeding established levels. The flood policy will not cover damage caused by a loss in progress.

20. Q. What is a "loss in progress"?

A. A "loss in progress" is a situation where flood damage to a structure or its contents had started prior to inception of the policy.

21. Q. How does one file a claim or flood loss?

A. A policyholder reports the flood loss immediately to his insurance agent, who in turn notifies the Program's servicing agent. The Program's agent will then assign an adjuster to the case. The toll-free number for reporting flood claim is 800-633-6620.

22. Q. Are losses from water seepage, sewer back-up or hydrostatic pressure covered?

A. Only when directly caused by a general condition flooding.

23. Q. Can condominiums be insured?

A. Yes. A condominium unit in a traditional townhouse or rowhouse is considered for flood insurance purposes as a single-family dwelling and the individual units may be separately insured.

When the condominium is situated in all other types of residential condominium structures, flood insurance on the insurable interest of the condominium owner's association should be purchased through a general property form flood insurance policy. Also, individual condominium units in these other types of residential condominium structures may be treated as single-family dwellings and unit owners may purchase insurance for their units.

(This report on the National Flood Insurance Program will continue in Thursday's Echo with questions and answers on mapping of flood-prone areas and program requirements and prohibitions.)

County Agent's Notes

by John Smith

HOME LAWN-Fall Armyworm Control:

The fall Armyworm is beginning to appear in fairly high numbers in Bay St. Louis and throughout Hancock County. Home owners should be on the look out for this pest, especially if they have Bermuda grass lawns.

Armyworm moths are active during the night. At this time, they deposit egg masses containing about 160 eggs on grass stems. They are capable of laying approximately 1,000 eggs. After hatching, the young larvae feed as a group on grass blades.

The damage at this stage is slight and often goes unnoticed by the home owner. As the larvae increase in size, they require more food and can strip a lawn in a very short time. To prevent this, regular lawn inspections should be made during this time of year.

Select locations at random throughout the lawn and examine the grass by rubbing it back and forth with the hand.

Then part the grass and examine the ground. If you see a coiled caterpillar, colored from light tan, green and nearly black, you probably have fall armyworms.

Control is easier if worms are found early and lawn damage is kept to a minimum. The material and amount of use:

1. Sevin, 50 percent W.P.-4 tablespoons to 3 gallons of water for each 100 sq. ft.
2. Diazinon, 25 percent E.C.-2 tablespoons per 3 gallons of water for each 125 sq. ft.
3. Sevin, 80 percent W.P.-2 1/2 tablespoons per 3 gallons of water for each 100 sq. ft.

Be sure to avoid contamination of pet food or drinking vessels. Keep children and pets out of the treated area until it is dry.

If you have any questions, please call the County Agent's office, 467-5456.

TIMBER HARVEST

If you own timberland, don't neglect the most important phase in the life of your timber. The most important management practice is timber harvest. You can prevent loss of profits and damage to trees not being harvested by making careful plans for the harvesting operations. Mark trees you plan to cut and know the market price of your timber. Advertise and seek bids on timber and have a written contract with the harvester.

SOYBEAN WEED CONTROL
Dry weather has produced smaller-than-normal soybean plants in much of the county. This means there will be less shading of weeds which will probably require more attention to late season weed control.

Weed competition has just about peaked in 8 to 10 weeks following emergence. While salvaging crops after this time won't do much to increase yields; it may help with harvest and reduce weed seed production.

Where there has been good early season weed control, watch for another flush of weeds after the rain.

A directed spray of Loxone, Sencor or Lerox combined with 2,4-DB as a layby type treatment will do a good job on these late emerging weeds. It will particularly help where beans are too small to shade middles.

With weeds like sicklepod a herbicide is preferred to additional cultivation.

ARMYWORM COUNT UP

Fall armyworms are reported high on grain, pastures and lawns in some areas. These pests likely will move to soybeans. Armyworms must be detected early for best control.

Examine the whole plant, including the underside of leaves. Use Lannate-Nudrin, Orthene or 1/2 pound of Lorsban mixed with either EPN plus methyl parathion or Toxaphene methyl parathion. DO GARDEN PLANTS LOOK A LITTLE UNDER THE WEATHER?

The County Agent says nematodes can infest the soil and cause stunting, yellowing, loss of vigor and death of plants. Examine the roots of growing plants for signs of nematode damage, just before and after harvest. Don't pull the roots from the ground.

John Carradine, veteran of more films than any other living actor, and his four sons - David, Keith, Christopher and Robert - talk with Fred Rogers on "Old Friends, New Friends" on ETV. The program can be seen at 7 p.m., Monday, August 18, on the Mississippi ETV Network. John Carradine, now in his late 70's, is known for roles in such classics as "The Grapes of Wrath" and "Captain Courageous" as well as in such horror movies as "Revenge of the Zombies." After 455 films, he nonetheless lives with the disappointment of an unachieved ambition - to

"I would like some happiness," he says. "It seems a really difficult thing to achieve." Childhood was not easy in the Carradine family. John Carradine spent his early years in an orphanage and then ran away from home at the age of 14. Many of us can remember the days when Dr. C.M. Shipp would visit our schools and administer vaccinations.

Times have changed considerably now, and students have to get their shots before school starts, or they will not be enrolled.

All students must have diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough, polio, measles and rubella shots before entering school.

I cannot recall that many when we were students, but it is important to have the shots.

Our State Board of Health office on Dunbar gives shots on Monday mornings and Thursdays.

Certificates showing the shots, even if moving from other states must accompany students upon registration.

We understand that the Humane Society is now two-thirds of the way to getting a tri-governmental animal shelter.

The Humane Society has received support from Waveland and Bay St. Louis and will be appearing before the Hancock County Board of Supervisors Monday.

We hope the Hancock supervisors will consider the formation of the tri-agency animal shelter which is so needed in our county.

It would be good to see a large contingent of folks at the supervisors meeting Monday showing support for the many folks who have worked so hard for so many years with animals in Hancock County.

We thought the folks working upstairs at Bay City Hall had a bad water situation, but at least they have cold water when ice is placed in the water cooler.

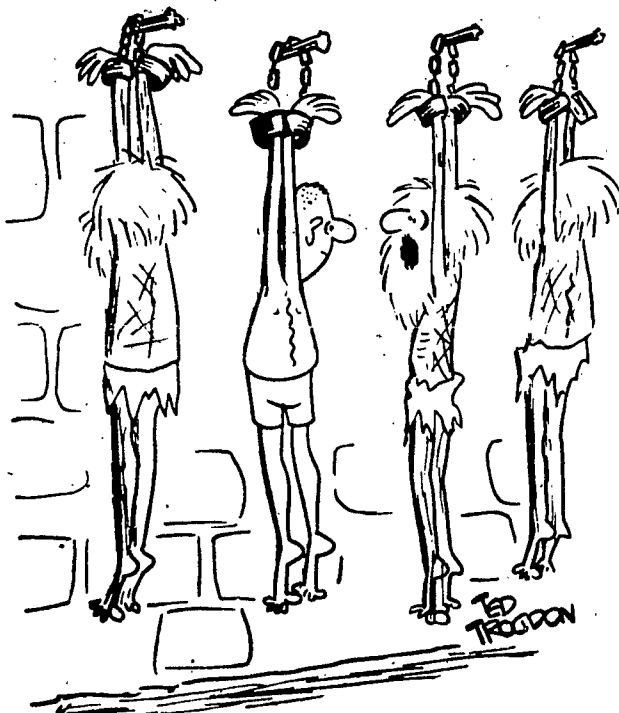

The folks working downstairs are without cold water. Their cooler does not cool the water at all.

We sure hope something is done about the two water coolers on the blink at the Bay St. Louis City Hall.

We know monies are short, but with the extra hot, hot weather this summer, a water cooler would seem to be a must.

FARM BUREAU REWARD — Mrs. Eva Lee Smith, seated right, receives $500 Reward check from L. J. Breaux, vice-president of the Hancock County Farm Bureau Friday. The reward was collected by Mrs. Lee for providing information to the Hancock County Sheriff's officers which led to a conviction in an alleged cattle theft and slaughter on June 7, 1980. Ronald Peterson, right, Hancock Sheriff; Chet Cuevas, son Scott, Mrs. Cuevas, John Smith, County Agent, Hancock Investigator Delbert Seay witness the presentation of the check from Breaux to Mrs. Smith. The cattle involved in the theft and slaughter belonged to the Cuevas family. Information given to police can help in solving many crimes in our communities. The folks above have identified themselves, which is not always necessary. If you see something out of the ordinary, call your police or sheriff's department at once.

Health Tip

From the American Medical Association

Most Moles Present No Health Problems

Everyone has moles. Those bumps on the skin, not those little animals that burrow underground.

Most of us have at least forty moles scattered around over our epidermis. For the most part they don't cause any health or appearance problems, and we just let them alone.

At first, moles are flat and are brown or black in color like a freckle. With time, they enlarge and some may develop hairs. Moles usually change slowly with the years, becoming larger and lighter in color. And, ultimately, most moles will eventually gradually disappear by seeming to fade into the skin. Or they seem to rub off.

Do moles present a health problem? Usually, no, says the American Medical Association. The only moles that warrant medical concern are those that do something out of the ordinary. This includes any spot that bleeds, itches, becomes painful, or suddenly changes in size, shape or color. Sometimes an unsightly mole on the face or neck requires attention for cosmetic reasons.

Very seldom is a mole an advance warning of skin cancer, but sometimes a cancerous blemish may look like a mole at first.

If the mole is so located on your body that it is constantly irritated by rubbing against clothing, or if it presents an unsightly blemish on the face, your doctor may remove it. He may simply cut the mole out with a scalpel, or he may use an electric needle. If the mole is quite large, plastic surgery may be required to minimize the scar.

Many individuals find that small moles can be effectively disguised with makeup.

Most moles cause little or no trouble. But occasionally a mole may catch our interest because it is unattractive or annoying. If using cover-up cosmetics doesn't solve the problem, consult a physician to have the mole removed.

remainder of the cargo space is taken up by liquid pesticides and herbicides," Ladner explained.

"I can understand this rumor going between one or two people, but the magnitude of this rumor is tremendous," he added.

A spokesman from the Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics Region Five office in Gulfport said he was asked about reports of the alleged marijuana transport by an area radio station some two weeks ago, but added he has no official report of any such incident.

"When there is a drug seizure anywhere in Mississippi, law requires that we be notified. As far as I can tell, this is just a rumor," the spokesman said Wednesday.

"If the incident did happen, I am positive we would have heard about it," he added.

A spokesman for the U.S. Customs Department in Gulfport also said he had received reports of the alleged drug bust, but added he never received any official report to confirm the rumors.

Pearl River County Sheriff Lawrence Holliday said Wednesday he has received inquiries about the alleged marijuana plane, but explained his department never made any arrests at the Pearl River-Poplarville Airport.

"I have heard rumors which said the plane was apprehended at the Poplarville Airport, but my department knows nothing about the incident," Holliday said.

"I later heard a rumor that it was a helicopter owned by Ladner which was apprehended at the Mobile, Ala. Airport," he added.

Ladner said Friday he has rented helicopters in the past, but does not own one.

The Drug Enforcement Agency in Mobile has had no report of a drug transportation arrest involving Ladner, a spokesman said Wednesday.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald A. Peterson said he has received telephone calls from people inquiring about the alleged bust.

"The calls started about two weeks ago asking if my department had arrested Ladner," Peterson said Friday.

"The only bust I have heard of in the past few weeks is the apprehension of a plane from Cuba carrying 1,900 pounds of marijuana into Hattiesburg Monday," he continued.

"I had heard reports that Sheriff Holliday arrested Ladner in Poplarville. I guess the reports were just rumors," the Hancock sheriff added.

MISSISSIPPI

News

The M.B. Swayze Foundation's leadership search has begun, and Foundation leaders have called for nominations for delegates to its leadership training seminar to be held later this year.

The Foundation - a part of the educational arm of the Mississippi Economic Council - has taken over the Council's six-year-old Leadership Mississippi Program, according to Duke Cain, a Jackson businessman and chairman of the New Delegate Program Subcommittee.

"This program, as in the past, is designed to identify the state's emerging young leaders and encourage their participation in public affairs," said Cain. "An August 1 deadline has been placed on all nominations for this year's program."

Nominations are sought from MEC members, local chambers of commerce, college and university presidents, community leaders, and other individuals explained Cain. Then a committee of Foundation and MEC members select the delegates from a list of nominees which usually runs into the hundreds. Maximum age for the seminar is 35.

"After participating in the two-day motivational seminar," said Cain, "delegates are eligible for the Leadership Mississippi Alumni Association and are also eligible for leadership training programs on the local level conducted by the Foundation."

"There is a large reservoir of potential leaders in the state," said Cain, "and this program is the Foundation's and MEC's effort to help identify emerging leaders and encourage their participation in public affairs."

Members of the New Delegate Subcommittee, in addition to Cain, are Carthage banker William M. Dean, Hattiesburg banker Leighton Lewis, and Greenwood banker David L. Putman.

said F-15 and F-4 fighters capable of attaining supersonic speeds were flying a mission near the Chandelgur Islands.

"The closest the mission should have come to Bay St. Louis is the northern tip of Chandelgur Island. I doubt if a sonic boom could carry that far unless the jets were flying at an extremely high rate of speed and a low altitude," Boh said Friday afternoon.

"We are not allowed to fly lower than 10,000 feet over the Gulf Coast," he continued.

"The distance a sonic boom is heard depends on a lot of factors, such as the speed of craft, distance from the point the boom is heard, and altitude and heading of the craft. All of these affect how far the noise could travel," Boh added.

The officer said a sonic boom sounds like "two cannons exploding immediately after one another in your back yard."

"If we had left the area near the islands, we would have been notified by Houston that we were out of place," Boh explained.

"It is kind of doubtful a sonic boom could create that type of disturbance all along the Coast," he added.

Gordon Howell, manager of the Du Pont titanium dioxide plant in DeLisle, said the plant is currently undergoing re-design and is "virtually shut down."

"We could not have been responsible. We had visitors on the plant all day long, and nothing is going on here," Howell said Friday.

"We are not operating anything here, so it would have been impossible that we were responsible," he added.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald A. Peterson said NSTL called his office

Thursday morning to inform him that blasting would be underway from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m.

"We got a call from NSTL, but no local residents called in to complain," Peterson said.

Ling confirmed the call to the sheriff, but added the only blast performed by the space facility was the test near noon Thursday.

A spokesman at Bay St. Louis City Hall said all employees in the upper section of City Hall felt the tremor and heard an explosion, but the workers in the lower section of the building felt and heard nothing.

A spokesman from the Bay St. Louis Police Department said the vibrations were felt in that office, but added no complaints were received.

Waveland Police Investigator Robert (Pogchie) Tartavouille said he felt the vibrations at his office on Coleman Avenue, but added no sound accompanied the movement.

A spokesman at the Mississippi Forestry Commission firetower in Rocky Hill said he did not feel any tremor Thursday.

Pass Christian Police Chief Ed Alley said he received a call "from a lady asking what caused the explosion."

"I don't know where she was calling from. She did not say," Alley added.

A spokesman at the Gulfport Police Department said he did not receive any calls concerning the vibrations, but added the Biloxi Police Department received complaints.

A Biloxi Police Department spokesman said no complaints were received by his office, but that the Gulfport Police received telephone calls concerning the tremor.

and the other from Wallace Business Machine Inc., both of Gulfport.

Waller Brothers bid $796 for each typewriter, and Wallace Business Machines bid $640 each.

Banks' motion to accept the lowest bid of Wallace Business Machines was seconded by Louie Ladner and accepted by the board.

"I don't want to buy any more typewriters because we can get IBM brand machines for the same price," Ladner commented.

The board held in abeyance the resignations of Hancock North Central Girl's Basketball Coach Charlie Jacobs and teacher Debra Jacobs until replacements can be found.

Woodrow Ladner said the coach is leaving the district to teach at another school.

CHICKENS & EGGS

JUNE, 1980

Mississippi's 6,369,000 layers produced 128 million eggs in June 1980, according to the Mississippi Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. This was 4 percent below the 134 million eggs produced in June 1979. Of these, 96 million were Table eggs, the remaining 33 million were Hatching eggs.

Broiler-type chicks hatched in Mississippi during June totaled 24,462,000 (1 percent) below the June 1979 hatch. The hatch of egg-type chicks was 515,000 (41 percent) below the 869,000 egg-type chicks hatched in June 1979.

There were 26,001,000 young chickens slaughtered under Federal inspection during May 1980 in Mississippi. This is 3 percent above the 25,168,000 inspected during May 1979. May Post Mortem condemnations were 1.68 percent, as compared to 1.66 percent in May 1979.

Corrections

Robert Clark of Clermont Harbor, field service volunteer for the Hancock County Chapter, American Red Cross, and Hancock County Civil Defense volunteer, was inadvertently identified as a Civil Defense employee in the Sea Coast Echo's previous edition.

Also in the same report, Dee Gallegos, public relations officer for the local Red Cross unit, was erroneously listed as chapter director.

The Echo apologizes for those errors.

"Legislative and other state leaders during the 1980 session expressed the opinion that the Supreme Court would not overturn the lower court decision," said Mallory.

"Therefore, it is essential that Mississippians understand the issues involved in property tax administration and how they would be affected by the reappraisal bill passed in the 1980 session," he said.

Dates, places, and times for the sessions are September 2, Tupelo, Ramada Inn, 9:30 p.m.; September 2, Greenwood, Ramada Inn, 3 p.m.; September 3, Jackson, Holiday Inn Downtown, 9:30 a.m.; September 3, Meridian, Holiday Inn Northeast, 2 p.m.; September 4, Biloxi, Royal D'Iberville, 9:30 a.m.; and September 4, Hattiesburg, Holiday Inn, 2 p.m.

"All local elected officials and interested citizens are urged to attend," said Mallory.

The meetings will last approximately 90 minutes, with question-and-answer session at the conclusion of each meeting.

Fred Bear guest speaker at state bowhunter confab

Fred Bear, developer of Bear Archery products, will be guest speaker at the 1980 Annual Mississippi Bowhunter's Association Jamboree in Jackson. Hancock Bowhunting Club President Michael Schmidt said Bear will speak at a banquet in the Coliseum Ramada Inn in Jackson Aug. 15 in conjunction with the jamboree. Trophy demonstrations and archery shoots will be conducted at Ross Barnett Reservoir in Jackson the following day, Schmidt said.

Included in Saturday's activities are a 3-D animal target range, running deer target shoot, novelty ring, dealer displays, archery demonstrations, and hunting trip door prizes.

A $15 per person admission fee is required to attend Friday's 7 p.m. dinner, which will include bowhunting films and an awards ceremony.

Bear is a member of the Explorer's Club, the Adventurer's Club, Polar Equator Club, Safari Club, International, Pope & Young Club, Outdoor Writer's Association of America, and a long list of conservation organizations.

He is a recipient of the W.J.

Compton Medal of Honor Award in Archery, the National Sporting Goods Hall of Fame Award, and a member of the Hall of Fame.

He has been Winchester's Outdoorsman of the Year and holds its Lifetime Career Award.

For more information on the dinner and activities call Schmidt at 255-2724.

Tonkel golf benefit set at Diamondhead

The Diamondhead Men's Golf Association will conduct a Dannie Tonkel Benefit Four-Ball Tournament Aug. 16 at the Diamondhead Country Club.

The event, open to any player with an established handicap, will begin with a shotgun start at 9 a.m. Saturday.

"We are going to use $5 of the entry fee for prizes and the other $20 will go to Tonkel, who is hospitalized at Gulfport Memorial with heart problems," said Cliff Russell, President of the Diamondhead Golf Association.

The country club is not charging any greens fees for the event. Diamondhead is supplying sandwiches for the golfers, and local dealers are supplying beverages for the event, Russell reported.

"Dannie is a very popular drummer who has entertained up and down the Coast," Russell said.

"He has recently been the starter at the Broadwater Sun Course and the past two years at Diamondhead," he added.

Deadline entry is noon on Friday, Aug. 15. To enter phone the Diamondhead Pro Shop at 255-1421, Ext. 6248. Entry fee is $25 per person.

NSTL runners sponsor meet

The Third Annual Naval Oceanographer's Two Mile Run is slated Aug. 16 at Jones Park in Gulfport. The event, sponsored by the Ocean Striders, is scheduled to begin at 8 a.m. in front of Marine Life and is open to the public. The Ocean Striders are a new running club from the National Space Technology Laboratories in Hancock County.

The first place male and female winners will receive the Admiral's Cup Plaque. In addition, Navy blue-and-gold tee-shirts will be awarded to all two mile finishers, and plaques will be given to age group winners.

Entry fee for the event is $3 in advance and $4 the day of the race. Entry forms are available at sporting goods stores throughout the Gulf Coast.

Last year's winners were Richard Mantooth of Keesler Air Force Base and Lee Ann VanLandingham of Gulfport.

SILVER KING—Dave Harvill of Waveland boated this tarpon after a battle of more than over an hour Thursday. The tarpon, the fourth for Harvill, tipped the scales at 152 pounds. All four of his catches have been over 100 pounds, with the largest being considered a state record at 151 pounds. Harvill's brother Donald accompanied him on the fishing trip to their favorite spot, a well-kept secret. (Staff photo-Ellis Cuevas)

Plant perennials now for spring slowers

By MRS. C.H. WOOD
STATE GARDEN CLUBS
AUGUST GARDEN GUIDE
August is a good time to plant seeds of many perennials in order to have established plants of good size to go through the winter for flowering next spring. Plant seeds of Gerber daisies, hollyhock, pansies, forget-me-not, larkspur, nasturtiums, calendulas and Sweet Williams.

Divide daylilies to establish new plants. A piece of root with a cluster of leaves cut back to 6 or 8 inches will make a new plant. Plant divisions 12 inches apart and keep moist until re-rooted. Continue to divide bearded iris this month. Lightly prune and fertilize roses to promote more beautiful flowers throughout the fall months. You can also root cuttings taken at this time of year. Remove old mulch around plants and replace with new material. Water during dry weather.

Make your last pinch on chrysanthemums early this month. Also at this time you should fertilize the plants to promote new branching and good bud formation. Use a low nitrogen fertilizer, such as 5-10-10, at a rate of ½ cup per square yard, or use about 1 teaspoon per plant.

It's time to begin disbudding common camellias to increase flower size. Remove all but one of the rounded flowerbuds at each stem tip.

Remove faded flowers from crepe myrtles to encourage a second bloom this fall.

Continue to give frequent soakings to newly transplanted trees and shrubs through August.

Cuttings of begonia, coleus, geraniums and sultana can be rooted now for use as indoor plants for this winter. Root cuttings in a rooting medium of equal parts perlite and moistened peat moss. Keep moist, not wet, until signs of growth and rooting are apparent, then pot the cuttings in 6-inch pots.

Be on the look-out for chinch bugs in your St. Augustine lawns. Control by spraying the entire area with Diazinon or Dursban applied according to label directions. Also start watching for lawn grass damage done by fall armyworms. These worms chew grass blades and can strip plants of their foliage in a short time giving the lawn a dead appearance. The armyworm can be controlled with Sevin. Be sure to follow label directions.

Continue collecting seed pods of native and wild plants to use in dried arrangements. Be on the lookout for dock and seed pods from red bud, locust, yellow poplar, Chinese parasol tree, water locust and cattails. Lots of the grasses have seedheads that can be used in these arrangements.

For a fall vegetable garden plant beets, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, bush green beans, lettuce, onions, Irish Potatoes, radishes and turnips. Keep seedbeds moist until seeds germinate.

Eye examinations urged prior to school opening

The Mississippi Society to Prevent Blindness reminds all parents of preschool and school age children that this is the time to have children's eyes examined.

Most children's eye problems can be corrected if found early enough and treatment started. Neglect of these problems can lead to poor learning, stress, and emotional upsets, and even to permanent vision impairment or blindness.

One of the most serious eye problems found in one of every twenty youngsters is amblyopia or lazy-eye blindness. This is a condition wherein the two eyes do not see the same thing with equal clarity. The image from the weaker eye is suppressed by the brain. Continued suppression leads to low vision or blindness. Treatment can consist of merely patching the stronger eye to force the weak one to function.

Every child should have a professional eye examination before leaving the hospital at birth and another before age four. While this is not always possible it is desirable.

The Mississippi Society reminds all parents that children have no way of knowing how they are supposed to see. They have no basis for comparison. It is up to adults to have them tested for problems that can affect their entire future.

Parker, Wyatt wed at Annunciation

Annunciation Catholic Church in Kiln formed the setting for the July 26 exchange of vows between Miss Beverly Ann Wyatt and Jesse G. Parker Jr.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Wyatt Jr. of Kiln. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jesse G. Parker Sr. of Pass Christian. Rev. Austin Walsh celebrated a Nuptial Mass before an altar decorated with lighted candelabra and arrangements of sonia and white flowers. Lighted candelabra also lined the aisle.

Altar boys were Scott Haas and Greg Parker. Brother Kenny Boesch of Covington, La. rendered musical selections accompanied by vocalists Connie Lee of Jackson and Bonnie Smith of Leptown.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of candlelight chiffon fashioned with fitted sleeves, Queen Anne neckline and ruffled bodice of reemblemized Alencon lace embellished with tiny seed pearls.

The softly gathered skirt swept to a full chapel length train accented with identical lace.

Her fingertip veil of ivory bridal illusion fell from a Juliet headpiece of Alencon lace and seed pearls.

She carried a crescent bouquet of bridal white and sonia roses interspersed with stephanotis, baby's breath and english ivy.

Patricia Cuevas of Kiln attended her cousin as matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were sisters of the groom Renee and Barbie Parker of Pass Christian, and cousin of the bride Belinda Cameron of Kiln. Venessa Alexander of Long Beach was junior bridesmaid.

Miss Robin Bennett of Kiln cousin of the bride, was flower girl. Ring Bearer was Rick Haas of Kiln.

The bridesmaids wore identical gowns of apricot polyester fashioned with empire bodice, pleated skirt and matching chiffon capelets. Each carried a candle encircled with english ivy, sonia pompoms and baby's breath.

Their hairpieces were of sonia roses, baby's breath and ivy. Ritchie Parker of Pass Christian attended his brother as best man.

Groomsmen were Kevin

Martinovich of Laurel, Tommy Haas of Kiln, and Wayne Swilley of Delisle. Chuck Bates of Long Beach was Junior groomsman.

Ushers were Benney Malley of Delisle and Tony Bailey of Rayville, La.

A reception was held at Jourdan River Shores following the ceremony.

The mother of the bride chose for the occasion a gown of honey matte jersey fashioned with scooped neck, fitted waist and short sleeve jacket of Venice lace. The groom's mother wore a gown of sweet pea polyester designed along princess lines with square neckline and pleated chiffon overlay.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Barbara Cameron, Lena Bennett, Margaret Cuevas, Louise Depreo, Betty Shiyon, Claire Mitchell and Peggy Rutherford.

For traveling to Disney World in Orlando Fla. and Silver Springs, Fla. the bride chose an ecru linen suit with an apricot silk blouse. A corsage of sonia roses and baby's breath completed her ensemble.

The couple will reside in Kiln.

Stevens, Boos wed at OLG

Miss Lisa Marie Stevens and Mr. Jeffrey Joseph Boos were married at an 11 a.m. Saturday, July 26 Nuptial Mass, at Our Lady of the Gulf Church.

The bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Philip Williams of Waveland. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Boos Sr., of Clermont Harbor.

Reverend Denis Harlow celebrated the Mass and officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Readings from scripture were given by Mrs. Mary Klein, and Mrs. Donna Roth, with the presentation of gifts by Mrs. Yvonne Garcia and Mrs. June Boos.

Arrangements of white gladioli, mums, and peach carnations decorated the altar, which was flanked by lighted candelabra.

Organist was Victor Frankiewicz Jr., and vocalist, Shari Grantham.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white silk sheerganza and venise lace fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline and Bishop sleeves. The hemline of her A-line skirt ended in a full flounce of pleated chiffon and extended to a chapel length train. Her veil of bridal illusion was held in place by a Juliet cap of venise lace. She carried a free style bouquet of white silk roses, talisman rosebuds, stephanotis, lily-of-the valley and baby's breath.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Suzanne Stevens King, sister of the bride, of Gulfport.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Lynn Klein Folse of St. Martinville, La., Annie Boos, sister of the groom, Clermont Harbor; Mary Kergosien, Bay St. Louis; and Gi-Gi Staehle, cousin of the bride, Bay St. Louis.

Flower girl was Jennifer Favre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Favre of Bay St. Louis.

Attending the groom as best man was Philip Garcia, his brother-in-law, of Clermont Harbor.

Groomsmen were Gerard Boos Jr., Waveland, Dave Boos, Clermont Harbor, brothers of the groom; Forrest Stevens, Waveland, brother of the bride, and Alvin Ladner, Clermont Harbor. Ushers were Wade Stevens, brother of the bride, Waveland, and Mike Roth, brother-in-law of the groom, Houston, Texas.

The bridesmaids wore formal gowns of Silesta chiffon featuring blouson styling and crystal pleated skirts in a soft peach color. They carried silk bouquets of talisman roses, forget-me-nots, baby's breath and ribbon, and wore hairpieces of peach forget-me-nots and baby's breath.

Little Jennifer Favre wore a charming bouffant gown of white dotted swiss with peach ribbon sash and carried a white wicker basket of peach silk blossoms, with tiny peach flowers in her hair.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the American Legion Hall in Waveland.

Mrs. Williams welcomed guests wearing a formal gown of polyester crepe in apricot hue with fitted bodice and softly draped cowl collar which dipped gracefully across the back. Her flowing skirt ended in a handkerchief hemline. She wore bone accessories and a corsage of talisman rosebuds.

Mrs. Boos chose for the occasion an ivory gown with tiny floral print, topped with short fitted jacket. Her long skirt was overlaid with a handkerchief hemline overskirt. She wore matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

Floral decorations at the reception were carried out in the bride's chosen colors. The bride's table held a four-tier wedding cake with sugar spun roses, flanked by arrangements of white and peach blossoms and candles. Susan Smith of Waveland kept the guest register, and Mrs. Vickie Staehle cut the wedding cake.

For traveling to a honeymoon destination at Niagara Falls in Canada, the bride chose a light blue linen suit with short fitted jacket, white accessories and a corsage of white sweetheart roses trimmed with blue.

Upon their return the newly wedded couple will reside in Starkville.

Traveling from Latham, New York for the wedding was Mrs. H. Philip Williams, grandmother of the bride.

Hancock 4-H youth win in district horse shows

By RICHARD L. SMITH,
4-H YOUTH AGENT

The Hancock County 4-Hers have been busy during the previous month.

The activity started on July 11 and 12 with the Southeast District Horse Show in Harrison County.

There were 11 4-H members participating, four juniors and seven seniors.

The junio 4-Hers age nine-fourteen who participated were Berry Necaise, William Moran, Denise Bourg and Kevin Necaise.

Bourg and Kevin Necaise represented Hancock County in the junior horse judging at the District Horse Show. Berry Necaise and Moran qualified for the state horse show in Jackson July 18 and 19.

The senior 4-Hers age 15-18 who participated in the District Horse Show were Mike Lee, Juanita Loup, Kessie Haas, David Smith, Jeanie Eckart, Laaurie Lackin and Billy Le Blanc.

There were five seniors who qualified to participate in the State 4-H horse show in Jackson July 18 and 19.

They were Mike Lee, Juanita Loup, Kessie Haas, Jeanie Eckart and Billy Le Blanc.

The Senior Horse Judging was held in Jackson, July 18. Hancock County was represented by Kessie Haas, Jeanie Eckart, and Mike Lee. They placed fifth in the State.

At the State 4-H Horse Show Kessie Haas qualified for the 4-H Regional Horse Show to be held in August in Raleigh, NC.

In addition to the horse shows, the State 4-H Convention was held in Jackson July 21 thru 23.

Hancock County had two delegates, Mimi Ladner and Cammie Smith. They voted in the State 4-H election and also for Southeast District 4-H officers.

On July 29-31 five county 4-Hers participated in the Teen Leadership Workshop at Gulf Park.

Jitney enlarging central warehouse

McCart-Holman Company, Inc., wholesale grocery supplier to the 50 Jitney stores, reports plans to build a 250,000 square-foot addition to its Jackson distribution center.

The $4.5 million complex will be located at Hawkins Field Industrial Park adjacent to the existing facility that was recently acquired by McCart-Holman. According to Henry Holman, president and chief executive officer, the new building will be contracted and constructed by Mississippi firms.

The center, which will employ 250 people at the outset will be serviced by both rail and truck.

As a result of the centralization of goods, McCart-Holman will be able to handle additional merchandise volume and speed up delivery time from the warehouse to the individual stores.

The present McCart-Holman warehouse on Mill Street in downtown Jackson will house an expanded bakery department, along with larger areas for the handling of perishable foods and fresh produce. It will also be the center for a company cardboard recycling program.

McCart-Holman and Jitney

Jitney operate Mississippi's largest chain of grocery stores, and with the addition of the new distribution center, will operate the largest home-owned warehouse in Mississippi.

In the past two to three years there have been 17 new Jitney stores opened: one each in Cleveland, Magee, Grenada, Starkville, Pascagoula, Yazoo City, Kosciusko, Aberdeen, Ripley, Greenwood and Brookhaven, three in Jackson, two in Tupelo, and one in Pensacola, Florida.

The total capital investment involved with the opening of these stores is more than $12 million.

In 1980, this company projects to open 10 additional grocery stores.

With these additions to the Jitney store roster, the total stores in operation number 50, including eleven in Jackson; two each in Meridian, Greenville, Yazoo City, Tupelo, Laurel and Biloxi; and one each in Hazelhurst, Clinton, Canton, Pearl, Aberdeen, Kosciusko, Starkville, Ripley, Brandon, Greenwood, Grenada, Cleveland, Carthage, McComb, Hattiesburg, Brookhaven, Pascagoula, Petal, Gulfport, Bay St. Louis, Ocean Springs and Magee.

And in Florida, there are five stores in Pensacola.

Summer degree conferred on 105 at Jefferson Davis

One-hundred five Gulf Coast Junior College students graduated last week during summer commencement exercises at the Jefferson Davis Campus.

Biloxi Mayor Jerry O'Keefe told the class it was "entering the world at one of the most exciting times in history where things are rapidly changing."

He advised the graduates to get involved in society. "In this way you will be able to keep up with the changing world," he said.

Those finishing with a 4.0 perfect average included Christine Hays of Long Beach and Andrea Jones and Mary Sievers, both of Pass Christian.

Special honors went to Richard Baker of Long Beach and Edgar Hutchinson of Pass Christian.

Other graduates were: Long Beach - Richard Baker, Michelle Bendzlowicz, Diane Crowder, Joyce Daniels, Rebecca Faulk, Laura Lydie, Jan McDonald, Gene McKay, Helen Miner, James Nix and Betty Roberts.

Edgar Hutchinson and Ann Mixon, both of Pass Christian; Ray Murphy, Bay St. Louis; and Kareq Pleasant, Gautier.

Associate degrees and certificates were conferred by G.L. Douglas, director of academic and general instruction at Jefferson Davis Campus.

Candidates were presented by recruitment-placement counselor Gene Rester.

Rester also gave the invocation and benediction. Olivia Starks of Biloxi played the processional and recessional.

Waveland Players slate auditions

By META GARSIDE
Have you seen the cartoon of two men in front of a voting machine with the choice of casting their ballots for either Reagan or Carter? One says to the other, "Can't we vote for none of the above?"

Well, the Waveland Players have a far better alternative for "undecided" voters out there!

The players are backing Wintergreen for President, by performing the musical "Of Thee I Sing" by George Gershwin of the last weekend in October and the first weekend in November right before Election Day at the Waveland-Civic Center on Coleman Ave.

The Waveland Players invites one and all to try-outs on Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Civic Center.

"We need a lot of people," says the director, Mrs. Ollie McKenna. In fact, 16 men and seven women have speaking parts; and we need chorus members who will be doubling as reporters, delegates, etc.

"So come join the bandwagon for 'Wintergreen For President,'" McKenna added.

Pulpit Points

BY DR. L.S. WALKER

THE POWER AND INFLUENCE of the Word of God in the lives of men is one of the great phenomena of every age. The Bible has been a powerful weapon for freedom among men - religious, social and political.

This fact is especially significant today as all nations are threatened with the loss of their freedom and liberty.

All the great liberators and champions of liberty in history have been ardent students and lovers of the Holy Scriptures.

Prayerful study of the Bible, and careful obedience to its divine precepts can strengthen the Arm of Liberty in our time as well.

Atheistic Communism, the grimy arm of Satan which constantly threatens to enslave the masses, cannot succeed where the Bible is taught, believed, and its principles put into practice.

You will do yourself, your family and friends a great service to read the Bible more in your own home. Avail yourself of the many opportunities offered by many churches to study and gain a broader knowledge of God's revelation to man.

Your church Sunday school, training service, the worship hour messages from the pulpit, the midweek prayer and Bible study are challenging opportunities which you and your family should not miss. The quickening efficacy of the Holy Scriptures is made clear by the writer of Hebrews. "For the word of God is quick and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the soul and spirit, and the joints and the marrow, and is a discernor of the thoughts and intents of the heart" - Heb. 4:12.

It is said that upon the Liberty Bell itself are engraved the words: "Proclaim liberty throughout the land to all the inhabitants thereof."

In a time when traditional cultural categories are shifting, the Bible offers us steadfastness of vision and faith.

In an age of stress, tension and feverish haste, it restores peace of mind and serenity of spirit. It stimulates the conscience and defines principles of right and wrong.

The Bible's message inspires, soothes and frees like no other can. Read it to be wise; believe it to be safe; and practice it to be holy. The Bible as it is has the needed message for men as they are!

"How sweet are thy words unto my taste! yea, sweeter than honey to my mouth!" "Through thy precepts I get understanding; therefore I hate every false way."

"Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path" - Psalms 119:103-105.

by Norman Vincent Peale and Ruth Stafford Peale

Can't make him quit
Q. When my son has time off work he drinks. First he gets silly, then severely depressed and then mean and destructive.

He is 30, has a lovely wife and two beautiful children. He used to be an active church member, a wonderful speaker and very talented.

I can't help but show my distaste and disgust. I have prayed and others have prayed but he doesn't change.

Now, I know I can't make him quit. What attitude can I take that would help him come to himself before it is too late?

A. Just be natural and love him just the same. Keep on praying for him, visualizing him as a sober, good-living man, for visualization often produces the image held.

But do this without condemning him. Encourage your daughter-in-law to attend Al-Anon meetings where she will get help from others who have alcoholic problems in the family.

Wrong way to die
Q. My life has been in great despair since my husband took his own life. We had been married 43 years. God has been my guiding light but I have such dark days.

My husband was a good Christian, and I know God wanted him home - but not that way. I wonder why things like this happen and leave the family so despondent?

A. You have suffered a great shock and sorrow and to have some dark times is normal. Put your husband into God's hands and leave him there. He was not rational when he took his life. God understands. Peace will come as you leave him with his loving Heavenly Father.

Baptisms

TWIN CHRISTENED-Melanie Ann and Mark Anthony Pernicaro, infant daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Pernicaro of Bay St. Louis, were baptized Sunday, July 27 at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church with Rev. JoAnn Barwick, Editor of "House Beautiful" magazine is providing help for the single man on his own.

The U.S. Census Bureau reports a 79.4% increase in the number of men living alone. For bachelors facing decorating, entertaining and living alone, there are thousands of questions never before considered. JoAnn Barwick, Editor of House Beautiful magazine, is providing answers.

A bachelor himself, Barwick says, "The emerging single man is very interested in his newfound domesticity and anxious to devote time, money and imagination to improving his domestic lifestyle. House Beautiful is giving him the tools he needs."

The April issue will feature decorating suggestions - versatile for anyone. With five pieces of furniture available in retail stores, the magazine can teach the single person how to put together a multi-functional living space, fast and with style.

Also featured are recipes from men who cook, profiles on six bachelors, furniture buys geared to men, entertainment suggestions, and tips on audio-visual equipment.

Financial institute officers offer help on money matters

MONEY TALK

By NORINE BARNES

For everyday transactions at financial institutions - deposits, check cashing, balance verification - you probably know the ropes. But when a money problem crops up, what do you do?

First of all, remember that just about every bank, savings bank savings and loan association, and credit union has people designated to help customers work out their difficulties.

These people at desks near the teller windows are the institution's officers. They are there to help with such tasks as straightening out that accidental overdraft, tracking down a lost deposit, or explaining credit terms or fine print.

And they may even introduce you to a new service that can make life easier for you.

Doing business with them can be easy - if you follow a few common sense rules:

Get to know the people in your financial institution. A casual chat with one of the officers while you transact routine business helps to make you something more than a face in the crowd. The better you are known, the quicker you can get help when you need it.

Keep records in order. Make sure you bring all relevant information with you when you do sit down with your officer to talk over a problem.

That could include your copy of your loan agreement and coupon payment book, deposit slips, passbooks, latest statement, and your checkbook register. With those records in hand, the officer will be able to help you set things straight more quickly.

Avoid surprises. Above all, if you see difficulties looming - a possible layoff, an expensive illness in the family, or just the realization that your credit obligations are creeping up on you - bring your financial institution's officer into the picture and ask for help.

What if you are not granted a loan you think should have been granted? First, don't smolder. Ask why the loan was denied.

Under federal law you are entitled to be told the specific reasons credit was not granted to you.

You might also review the rating information in your credit bureau file and have the bureau correct any possible errors.

Your loan officer can tell you whom to contact.

Ask your loan officer what you can do to improve your credit rating and your chances of obtaining a loan next time. Remember to be denied credit for legitimate reasons is a service to you.

Act when the problem arises. Contact the proper person at the lending institution.

The Mayor and City Council may from time to time on its own motion or on petition, from a property owner, or recommendation of the Planning Commission amend the regulations and districts herein established. Any proposed amendments shall be forwarded to the Planning Commission for their review, comments and recommendations prior to final action by the Mayor and City Council.

Amendments to districts shall be either permanent or single use. A single use amendment would allow the utilization of existing structures in non-compliance areas on a single permit. If the permitted use is discontinued for a period of six months the single use amendment would become void. No change in regulation, restrictions or district boundaries shall become effective until after a public hearing is held by the Planning Commission, at which interested agencies and citizens shall have an opportunity to be heard. At least fifteen (15) days notice of the time and place of such hearing shall be published in an official paper, or paper of general circulation in Hancock County.

Each amendment shall be voted upon in accordance with local ordinances or state statutes except in a case of protest against such change. If a protest against such a change is presented and is signed by the owners of twenty (20) percent or more of those within a radius of one hundred (100) feet of the external boundaries of the area in such proposed change, such amendments shall not become effective except by the favorable vote of two-thirds of all the members of the City Council for the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi.

A deposit of fifty dollars ($50.00) shall be paid by the applicant for each zoning petition for amendment to the zoning regulation to cover the cost of legal publication and processing.

Section 2. That all Ordinances or parts in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Section 3. That this Ordinance shall be in full force and effect thirty (30) days after date hereof.

After being reduced to writing, the foregoing Ordinance was read and considered, section by section, and then as a whole, whereupon Councilman Thriftley moved its adoption and after a second by Councilman Wagner, the following roll call vote was had:

Voting yeas: Councilmen Farve, Thriftley and Wagner.
Voting nays: None.
Absent and not voting: Councilmen Benvenuti and Seymour.

Whereupon Vice-President Farve declared the foregoing ordinance passed unanimously by the Council of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi this 5th day of August, 1980.

PETER J. BENVENUTI,
PRESIDENT
OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF BAY ST. LOUIS, MISSISSIPPI

KELLY L. MCQUEEN
CITY CLERK
CITY OF BAY ST. LOUIS, MISSISSIPPI

Presented by me to the Mayor of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, on August 7, 1980.

KELLY L. MCQUEEN
CITY CLERK
CITY OF BAY ST. LOUIS, MISSISSIPPI

Approved and signed by me on August 7, 1980.

23. Cards of Thank

The family of WILLIAM 'WHITEY' JOSEPH would like to thank their many friends for their kindness shown to him during his recent illness and death. A very special thanks to Drs. Rutherford and Lee, the staff of Hancock General Hospital, Father Keller of St. Rose de Lima Church, and the Brothers of St. Stanislaus College. Each one has our everlasting gratitude. Sisters and brothers

I WISH TO THANK Dr. Helen McGeehee & her office staff, Dr. Joseph Lee, Dr. Andrew Martinovich, entire staff of Hancock General Hospital from front office to kitchen, for kindness and good care given to me when I was a recent hospital patient. Also last but not least, thanks to Mobile Medic's Bay St. Louis crew, my family & friends.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Earl (Nina) Garcia
